The procedure for Tula Snanam

The Significance of Tula Snanam

☞ [illegible]

’Tula Snanam’ refers to the act of bathing in the river Kaveri during the Tula month (Tamil Aippasi). Performing this ritual bestows immense punya. Throughout this entire month, all sacred waters — including those of the river Ganga — reside within the river Kaveri.

Tula Snanam is performed on the days when Tula month exists during the Arunodaya (four nadika-s before sunrise). Bathing daily in the Kaveri during this month grants a person the four purusharthas: Dharma, Artha, Kama, and Moksha. Furthermore, dana dharma activities performed on the banks of the Kaveri during this month yield punya equivalent to performing the same acts on the banks of the river Ganga.

The dip of the lame devotee (Mudavan Muzhukku)

There is a special observance associated with Tula Snanam that takes place on the first day after the main Tula snana period (usually the first day of the Vrishchika month). This is known as "Mudavan Muzhukku" or the dip of the lame devotee.

The story goes that a man named Natha Sarma who was lame (unable to walk), and his wife Anavidyambika, having heard of the great significance of Tula Snanam, traveled a long distance to reach Mayuram (Mayiladuthurai). Due to the disability, they arrived only as the month of Tula was coming to an end. Upon realizing that the prescribed period for Tula Snanam had already passed, they were deeply disappointed.

As they prayed to the Lord in their sorrow, Bhagavan Shiva appeared in their dreams and instructed them to bathe the following morning (the first day of the Vrishchika month), assuring them that they would receive the punya of snana during the entire Tula month. Therefore, for those who are unable to bathe throughout the entire month of Tula, taking a ritual bath on the day of 'Mudavan Muzhukku' will yield the same merit.

Snana should be done silently by uttering only mantras or Bhagavan Nama. Those who do snana in the river, should face against the flow of the river and those who do snana at other places should face the Sun. Chanting Veda mantras in the following procedures are to be done by those who have learnt them. Others may chant the Bhagavan Nama of their choice or other stotras in praise of Bhagavan as mantras. Snana should not be done without mantras!

The Greatness of Kaveri

- Originating in the Kodagu region of the Sahya mountain range (the Western Ghats) in Karnataka, the Kaveri eventually reaches the sea near Poompuhar (Kaveripoompattinam), close to Thiruvenkadu in Tamil Nadu.

- She is a manifestation of the Maya (divine illusion) of Lord Vishnu Himself. She was a daughter of Brahma. Through His grace she was born as the daughter of a king named Kavera. Taking on a human form, she became known as Lopamudra and married the sage Agastya. She also resided in the form of sacred water within the sage's kamandalu.

- Shriman Narayana Himself declared her to be ”the Ganga of the South”, stating that bathing on the banks of the Kaveri for just one day — compared to three days on the banks of the Ganga or five days on the banks of the Yamuna — is sufficient to cleanse one of all sins accumulated throughout one's life. Lord Parameshwara also blessed her, promising to reside in various sacred sites along both her banks, from her source all the way to the sea.

- At the beginning of the Tamil month of Aippasi, when the Sun enters the Tula Rashi, Lord Ganesha — taking the form of a crow — tipped over the kamandalu of Sage Agastya, allowing the Kaveri to flow forth. She began her course in the Sahya mountains beneath an amla (Indian gooseberry/nelli) tree, which is considered an aspect of Shriman Narayana. At that moment, Brahma poured the Viraja Tirtha — held within his own kamandalu — into her waters using a shankha. Consequently, she came to be known as Sahya Amalaka Tirtha and Shankha Tirtha. With a roar resembling the chanting of the Vedas, and moving with great velocity — sweeping along stones and trees, flowing in straight lines, curves, and circular patterns — she journeyed toward the ocean in a myriad of ways.

- At her source stands the great sage Dattatreya, and Lord Ranganatha resting upon Her lap. Shrirangam — a manifestation of Shri Vaikuntha — in situated on her.

- During the Tula Masa Punya Kala each year when Surya enters the Tula Rashi, and during the 'Tula Pushkaram' that occurs once every twelve years when Brihaspati enters the Tula Rashi, 3.5 crore sacred waters from across the world converge and unite with her. Bathing in her waters during auspicious times such as Ardhodaya and Mahodaya is considered especially meritorious.

- A simple bath in her waters is sufficient to wash away the sins of seven lifetimes. If one bathes according to the prescribed scriptural injunctions, one can liberate seven generations of ancestors from both the maternal and paternal lineages. She has the power to alleviate the torments of various hells. Even for those unable to come and bathe in her directly, even if bath is done by bringing her water to them — or warming it, if the water is too cold — bestows great spiritual merit.

- She has been revered by great souls such as Vishvamitra, Bhishma, Yudhishthira, and Arjuna. The Puranas recount that she granted a supreme state of liberation to an ascetic named Vedarashi. When King Harishchandra sought to perform the Ashvamedha Yaga, the sages Narada and Agastya advised him to bathe in her waters to attain the necessary eligibility for the ritual.
- In the worldly aspect, she bestows longevity and good health. In the spiritual realm, she bestows the siddhi of japa, purashcharana, vrata-s etc.
- She grants profound satisfaction to all beings — including the deva-s (celestial beings), rishi-s (sages), pitru-s (ancestors), humans, and animals.
